SANS  SOUCI

You may be asking if there is a proven recipe for producing light fixtures.
Well, here is ours... take a look and enjoy!

History 01 as the Basis

Take the 650-odd years of the development of glass-making and use it as a high-quality basis for future work. Do not forget that the earliest records of glass furnaces in Bohemia, the present-day western half of the Czech Republic, date back to the 14th century. The first of them, built in 1376 in Vysoké nad Jizerou, was followed in 1548 by the very first Czech glassworks. A historic breakthrough in glass-making came when rock crystal was replaced with Czech glass crystal, confirming the status of Bohemia as a glass-making power and spreading it across the globe. The world stood in awe and the fame of Czech glass, skilled craftsmen and the brightest light fixtures dazzled people across continents.

Regional Ingredients

So as to produce a unique work, add a special ingredient in the form of the Nový Bor region. The specific landscape at the foot of the Lusatian Mountains surrounded by woodland and formed by the meanders of mountain streams predestined the Czech glass-making industry for global success. You can rest assured that wood from the local forests, quartz sand, and crystal-clear water from the Czech mountains created the ideal conditions for producing high-quality molten glass, the production of which has been tested throughout an astonishing thirteen centuries.

03 Exquisite Raw Materials

Do not forget high-quality raw materials. The glass batch – which is industry slang for the raw materials mixture used in producing a glass melt – must contain just the right amount of all ingredients. The correct ratio of quartz sand, potash, limestone, recycled glass and other spices is a closely guarded secret of every "chef", or master glassmaker. Depending on the effects you wish to achieve in molten glass, add other ingredients to the batch, such as colouring agents, refining agents, opacifiers or bleaching agents. Melt all the ingredients together in a furnace for 12–16 hours at 1450–1550 °C.

04 Hands of Gold

Add the experience of countless generations of master glassmakers, whose craft is passed down from father to son and is honed to perfection over many years. Much of the magic of glassmaking is closely guarded by master glassmakers and is handed down only in person, from one generation to the next. It is no wonder, then, that numerous glass-making clans specialise in their respective disciplines, such as mould-blowing. The truth is, becoming a glassmaker does not come easily. It is a long and arduous journey from novice to master, with glassmakers achieving the level of master after about 11 years of hard work and gaining experience.

Crystal Glass

Do you long for perfect glass, a gemstone that will dazzle everyone? Then you long for crystal. For the clear material which, in its natural form, originated in the mountains, and which has fascinated people by its purity since ancient times, inviting them to create luxurious objects. The term crystal glass was coined in 16th-century Bohemia and you will surely find it interesting to know that thanks to its weight, purity and hardness, crystal glass has become perfect for cutting and polishing. It refracted light in such a perfect way as no other material ever had. It was, in fact, in 18th-century Bohemia, where the first crystal chandelier was produced, looking exactly the same as the crystal chandeliers adorning the most beautiful palaces in the world today.

The Craft of Chandelier Making

We are nearing the finale. We have got a solid base and what remains is to give glass a proper form. Add a drop of light, a brilliant cut, an ostentatious or a modern shape, and let it shine. Devote special attention to the structure as designing a light fixture is not unlike architectural work. Everything needs to be carefully drawn, measured and calculated. Neither forget that as long as glass is produced by hand, it is never entirely accurate. That is what makes its beauty shine even brighter as every piece is an original. It is only for you to decide whether to combine glass with metal arms, or opt for an all-glass light fixture.

07 Final Touch

We are almost at the end. Before we start to serve, there is one important step left: finishing technologies. It is where centuries-old procedures meet with new materials, principles and latest science, producing new visual effects, forms and experiences. Over time, we moved away from time-honoured candles to LED lights and optical fibres. From minimalist light fixtures to giant installations. From functional lighting to lighting objects and decorations. The world should be grateful for these technologies – the constant pushing of boundaries is amazing. The things that were not possible yesterday are now within our reach, you only need to find the right application.

Our Works

Original tailored solutions reflecting the fascinating combination of light and glass. Give your interior a unique look by adorning it with elegant shapes and glittering crystal.

Intourist Hotel

BAKU, AZERBAIJAN / Located on one of the longest seaside promenades in the world, the hotel intricately combines present-day features with those of the times long gone. The decorative light fixtures in the lobby and the B&B restaurant embrace the concept of "old and new" as well. The crystal waves are made up of cut crystal balls, which, as components, are some of the most traditional pendants. However, as they have been suspended in a non-traditional way on smooth silver rods, the overall impression is given a new, modern dimension.

Caŝta Diva Reŝtaurant

MOSCOW, RUSSIA / Immerse yourself in the two-storey palace in Moscow and you will feel as though you have been carried away back in time. Frescoes, bas-reliefs, marble busts and fountains – all of them executed in minute detail and always adorned with fresh flowers. Let yourself be carried away by an atmosphere of times long gone and do not forget that you will be guided by light fixtures made of crystal, the origins of which can be traced back to 16th-century Bohemia.

Diamonds are Forever – The Superyacht

LIVORNO, ITALY / If tidal waves were to carry you away to a single place of luxury, they would take you to the "diamond yacht". The title itself suggests what experience you would be in for. You could take a walk along perfectly tuned, warming interiors, and if you looked up, you would take a glimpse of Czech crystal light fixtures, which give a sparkle to any voyage.

Boulevard Hotel

BAKU, AZERBAIJAN / The largest conference hotel in Azerbaijan was given its iconic name after a seaside promenade in Baku Bay. The main hall, which can accommodate over 1000 guests, is brightened up by 40 suns casting light on its beauty. If you visit the local spa after an exhausting conference, you will be welcomed by an organic light fixture that matches the atmosphere of the relaxation zone.

Private Residence

MOSCOW, RUSSIA / As soon as you enter the hallway of the private residence, you are literally dazzled by the glitter of a thousand tiny crystal prisms, dispersing light into impressive mosaics and painting starry patterns across the ceiling. Other rooms in the private residence succumbed to the pristine beauty of clear crystal as well.

Residential Building

SHANGHAI, CHINA / Through their grandeur, crystal cascades attract attention and trigger unforgettable emotions. The decorated clear rods are ingenious in their simplicity, thanks to which they can be transformed into a dynamic wave or a free-flowing waterfall. If they are combined with golden metals, the air of luxury is accentuated even further.

Fifty One East

DOHA, QATAR / Floating proudly above fashion, shoes, perfumes and decorations of world-renowned luxurious brands are Czech crystal pendant light fixtures. The traditional Maria Theresa chandeliers, which first saw the light of day as early as in the 18th century, have illuminated luxurious spaces in an almost unchanged fashion up to the present day. This rightfully places them among the most popular pieces in history and it is why they are regarded as an icon among crystal light features.

Hilton Prague

PRAGUE, CZECH REPUBLIC / If you are asked to picture a classic chandelier, one of the first things that will come to your mind is a crystal basket. One that is clearly defined in style, delicately arranged, and woven from cut octagons or beads that cast a play of light across the ceiling. Just as in Prague's Hilton hotel, which is placed at the very threshold of the most breathtaking sights of Old Prague.

Lady Linda Yacht

If you set sail out to sea, you will surely expect to have a luxurious experience. Having a base from which you can enjoy the voyage is a necessity. One that is elegant, nice and cosy. Just like the Lady Linda yacht, featuring warm interiors with subtle decorations that are reflected in the cut mirrors spreading across the entire wall and lit up by Czech Art Deco light fixtures.

The Bochka Restaurant

MOSCOW, RUSSIA / Picture a place where you can sit by the fireside and forget the time you are living in. A medieval tavern combing the gaudiness of red, the rusticity of wood and the rawness of rough bricks. Looking down upon all this are sparkling crystal chandeliers made by Bohemian master glassmakers. All this may seem like a mismatch, but it is precisely why the combination is so compelling.

Private Residence

MOSCOW, RUSSIA / The oriental light fixtures with carved floral patterns are a perfect match for the peaceful spa atmosphere. The cold metallic tones give a harmonious feel to the interior, where the element of water can be felt at every step. The resulting feeling is one of absolute calm and relaxation.

Private Residence

MOSCOW, RUSSIA / With its rigid definition of shapes, geometry is ideal for accentuating the richness of cut crystal. The strings of pearls or octagons hang leisurely down, sending off reflections across the entire ceiling. They are accompanied by matching wall lights sending their small beady waterfalls down the striped walls.

Hilton Prague Old Town

PRAGUE, CZECH REPUBLIC / The hotel in Prague's Old Town will allow you to enjoy a glimpse of the times when Art Deco was in vogue. Its typical features meet modern luxury with delicate lightness. You will experience the atmosphere of the 1930s, which are, among others, recalled by stylish lanterns, semi-flush mount ceiling lights, or the lamps in the Zinc restaurant. Other features include stained glass or glass artistic images in the vestibule.

Glass in Architecture

Luxurious glass from the floor to the ceiling. Walls, stained glass, column capitals, railings, skylights or fountains... The only limit is what you desire.

Private Residence

MOSCOW, RUSSIA / Glass adorns the luxurious residence from the floor to the ceiling. A wide range of architectural features are made of it, such as handrails, decorative stained glass, feathers in the floor, column capitals, wine racks, or a lift cabin. These typical and atypical uses are an excellent example that there are no limits when it comes to the application of glass. Design by Nadine
